

Join us on Edmodo and Twitter!

'edmodo' is a safe, online platform where we can share nursery news, updates and photos of the children. You can add comments and any of your own pictures of home learning, wider achievements or news and we then share this with the children at 'Together Time'. They love sharing their news and seeing pictures of their friends out with the Early Years centre. We would love you to join us! Hand in your consent form to a member of staff and then follow the instructions in the e-mail that you receive.

Download the Twitter App today and follow us @StruthersSchool

At Struthers Primary and Early Years Centre we aim to use Twitter to:

- ✓ Promote the school
- ✓ Provide information to current and prospective parents and teachers as well as the wider community
- ✓ Act as a one way communication channel outwards (Please continue to contact the school directly with any questions)
- ✓ Showcase examples of pupils' work – in words, pictures, sound or movie clips
