

Dear Parent/Carers

In conjunction with respectme, Scotland's anti-bullying service, we would like to inform you of a planned workshop event for parents and carers. This interactive training workshop lasting two hours will take place at Marr College on 16 May 2018 at 12.45pm until 2.45pm and will explore a range of important issues related to how parents and carers can support children and young people affected by bullying. The event will focus on:

- Increasing your awareness of bullying behaviour
- Practical guidance on how to respond if your child is being bullied, or is involved in the bullying of others.
- How schools and parents can work together to create inclusive environments and provide effective support for children and young people.

Places are limited so please reserve your space at this event by contacting the school office.

Kind Regards

EILIDH MCBEAN
